

Memory Pieces

Elaine works sensitively and compassionately, creating beautiful keepsake pieces from textiles that hold great sentimental value to her customers. These precious pieces can be cherished forever and are a lovely way of keeping memories alive through the sense of touch, sight and smell.

Working with fabric from treasured pieces of children's clothing, such as a baby's blanket or a child's first school uniform for example, Elaine has created keepsake characters and soft sculptures which can add a unique and personal touch to a child's bedroom while also preserving cherished childhood memories.

Elaine has created characters and creatures for adults too!

"My husband travels a lot with work so I wanted to give him something to take with him that would remind him of home. Elaine created the most wonderful travel companion (a superhero) using fabric and buttons I sent her from deconstructed jumpers that no longer fit our two children, a once favourite necklace of mine that had a run in with my son and a pair of scissors and one of my husbands old shirts!"

Memory Pieces

Working with children's drawings of loved ones whom they have lost, Elaine translates these into tactile, sensory keepsake forms from their memorable textiles which have included pieces of clothing, blankets and tablecloths.

"It makes me remember Granda and I can still give him a cuddle."

Stanley Elder-McPhail, age 4

Elaine has also created cushions, scented pomanders and hanging decorations from precious fabric that belonged to lost loved ones.

"My gran had a great love for birds and her house was always filled with a lovely scent of lavender. So my beautiful lavender scented hanging bird decoration made from fabric from one of her favourite tablecloths is a wonderful reminder of her and something that is very dear to me."
